

Please leave Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law alone. I truly enjoy not being bothered by unwanted and sometimes rude telephone solicitors. At times I would receive up to 10 calls a night and it was really frustrating. I have an elderly father who needs me quite often and with this new law he has been able to get through to me with no problems. I value my privacy and have enjoyed spending more time with my fiance and family since no longer being bothered with unnecessary calls. If I want to purchase something, I will go to a store, I DO NOT disclose my credit card numbers to just anyone and would rather see what I'm getting before spending hard earned money.
